

ANTI-TAMMANY MEN PLAN STATE TICKET

Lunn and Seabury to Make Fight Against Murphy in the Primaries.

RELIANCE ON OSBORNE

Leaders Wondering Whether Wilson or Bryan Will Control at San Francisco.

ALBANY, May 10.—Democrats, like the Republicans, face a fight in the primaries next autumn. With the announcement here today of W. W. Farley, State chairman, that an unofficial Democratic State convention to designate a State ticket probably will be held in Saratoga soon after that of the Republicans, reports reached the ears of State leaders that a complete anti-Tammany ticket may also be put in the field at the primaries.

It will be a ticket backed by the national Administration and managed by Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady and Samuel Seabury of New York, who were run over by the Tammany steam roller at last week's conference of New York State delegates to the National Convention here last week, when they fought unsuccessfully for an endorsement of President Wilson and the League of Nations.

While William Church Osborne, former State chairman, has announced his candidacy for United States Senator, there is talk here that an effort may be made to have him lead the opposition State ticket. The indications all point to Gov. Smith as the organization choice. It may be drafted to lead his party in the next State campaign against him. He would like to have an opportunity to carry out his welfare and reconstruction programme, but is known not to be anxious to run for Governor again. Democratic leaders, however, declare he always has been a "good soldier" in the organization and would do the bidding of his party.

The opposing factions in the Democratic row are not likely to make any definite move until after the San Francisco convention. Tammany Hall, while in complete control of the New York State delegation, is not so sure of cooperation in its fight on President Wilson from delegates of the State. Hiram Johnson, who is a regular organization leader would like to know.

Will President Wilson be able to control the San Francisco convention? Can William Jennings Bryan get enough supporters to force a dry plank in the platform?

These two questions will have a direct bearing on the Democratic campaign in New York. With President Wilson in control and a dry plank in the national platform a Tammany "wet" candidate for Governor would be put in an embarrassing position. Democrats admit that any chance which Gov. Smith might have had of winning on a wet platform would be considerably lessened.

Such an outcome of the National Convention would greatly increase the stock in trade of the anti-Tammany Hall forces. They would immediately jump on the Administration band wagon, losing no time in getting into the field with a State ticket that would be in harmony with the national ticket and platform.

The leaders of the opposition besides being pro-Wilson are dry. They tried to have adopted at the conference of delegates here last week a resolution to uphold the Federal prohibition amendment, but were quickly squelched.

CAN'T SELL GERMAN VESSELS.

W. R. Hearst Enjoins United States Shipping Board.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Shipping Board, under a decree signed today by Justice Bailey in the District Supreme Court, is perpetually enjoined from selling the twenty-nine former German liners seized when the United States entered the war. An arrangement in the case by the board was noted some time ago.

Today's decree resulted from a suit for an injunction brought by William R. Hearst of New York in his capacity as a taxpayer.

Pershing Buys Store of Sugar.

SAN JUAN, P. R., May 10.—Gen. John J. Pershing, who has been on a several days' visit to the island of Porto Rico, sold this afternoon for New York on the transport Northern Pacific. With him he took 100 pounds of sugar which he obtained at a sugar central at Arecibo, where he had luncheon today. Gov. Yager, who has been ill since January, called on the transport with Gen. Pershing. He purposes going to a Baltimore hospital, where he will undergo an operation. The Northern Pacific got around in the harbor yesterday.

Forest Fire Air Patrol Begins.

GROCCERS PUT H. C. L. ON THE SPECULATOR

They Also Deny There Is Shortage in Sugar.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—Speculators are responsible for the high cost of living, according to delegates to the convention of the Southern Wholesale Grocers Association, which opens here tomorrow.

Edgar Watkins of Atlanta, Ga., general counsel for the association, asserted there was no sugar shortage. He declared refinery prices for the first four months of this year ranged from 14 to 15 cents, while brokers quoted them at 27 and 30 cents a pound.

J. H. McLaurin of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the organization, declared prices would remain high until the speculators were eliminated.

TEXTILE STRIKE ENDS: NO DEMANDS WON

Lawrence Engineers Give No Reasons for Return.

LAWRENCE, MASS., May 10.—Union stationary engineers employed in the mills of the American Woolen Company here, who went on strike last Thursday for a forty-eight hour week and a minimum wage of from $40 to $60 a week, will return to work tomorrow morning, according to a statement tonight by business agent James F. Hughes.

No reason was given by Hughes for the decision to return and company officials said they had not granted the demands in whole or in part.

Engineers in several other textile mills struck at the same time as those employed by the American Woolen Company, union leaders placing the number at about sixty, and the company officials claiming a much smaller number. It was estimated that about one-half of those who walked out were employed in the mills of the American Woolen Company.

INJUNCTION HALTS STRIKE.

Textile Workers in Cohoes Will Respect Court Order.

COHOS, May 10.—The fifteen textile mills in this city, Troy, Lansingburg and Waterford were operating as usual today, though a strike had been called for this morning. An injunction was brought against forty women operators in the Erie mill last Saturday to prevent a strike, and this injunction has been respected, as a result of the request of Charles O'Connor, attorney for the United Textile Workers of America. Union leaders declare they will not participate in any strike pending court proceedings.

The trouble in the mills in this section was caused by a disagreement between the United Textile Workers and the Amalgamated Association of Jackknifers. The Jackknifers seceded and the officials of the parent body threatened a strike to bring them back into the organization.

GOT RUM FOR AGENT; FREED.

U. S. Commissioner Rules Purchase Does Not Violate Law.

BOSTON, May 10.—United States Commissioner Hayes ruled today that when a person is induced by a prohibition agent to buy liquor for the agent and does not himself profit by the transaction he does not violate the law.

The ruling came in disposing of the case of Morris Barenboim, a taxicab driver, who was arrested in Lawrence two weeks ago after four prohibition agents had induced him to obtain liquor for them. The man was discharged.

LIQUOR GOING OUT OF JAMAICA.

Exports Increase, but Destination Is Mystery to Authorities.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 10.—A resolution has been adopted by a certain section of the clergy here accepting the Government's proposal for State control of the liquor traffic.

Investigations recently made show that the exportation of liquor from Jamaica is on the increase, but the investigators have so far been unable to ascertain where it is going.

Nimkofsky's Slayer Arraigned.

Phillip Cooper, 1255 Brook avenue, The Bronx, who ran amuck with a knife last Friday and killed Morris Nimkofsky of 174 Pulaski street, Brooklyn, was arraigned yesterday in Essex Market Court and was held without bail for a hearing Wednesday. Policeman John J. Hopkins of the Madison street station asked for subpoenas for ten witnesses to the stabbing, which were issued. The prisoner was taken to the Jefferson Market Prison.

BROOKLYN CITY BUS LINES LOSE APPEAL

Court Upholds Trolley Co. Injunction Against Service Sponsored by Mayor.

DENIES EMERGENCY PLEA

Says Home Rule Act, Upon Which Officials Relied, Is Inapplicable.

The Brooklyn City Railroad's victory over competitive municipal buses sponsored by Mayor Hylan was sustained yesterday by unanimous decision of the Appellate Division of the Brooklyn Supreme Court, which upheld Justice Cropper in granting the company a permanent injunction against the rival carriers.

The opinion, written by Justice Blackmar, declares the city is without right or power to compete with the trolley lines to which it assigned franchise monopoly, and that no emergency exists to justify the city buses on that ground. The Home Rule act, upon which the city relied for its authority, was pronounced inapplicable to this case.

"The line of argument," said the Court, "that the Home Rule act empowers the city to operate stage lines or motor vehicles in order to promote the welfare of the citizens would, with equal force, apply to establishing municipal markets, municipal department stores, municipal drug stores, or any other enterprises which the officials in power conceive would be in the interest of public welfare. No such meaning can be given to the act."

The court said that no emergency existed requiring the buses though "a permanent condition of inadequacy of service" may have existed.

William B. Carswell, Assistant Corporation Counsel, said he would take an appeal from the decision if the court would grant him permission. The decision affects three competitive bus lines, those serving Flatbush avenue, Park Slope and Greenpoint.

Mercurial Staten Islanders, who took to the city buses when the trolley lines began charging an eight cent fare, were loud yesterday in their denunciation of the buses. A third of the bus drivers earned so much money from carrying Sunday crowds that they did not appear with their vehicles yesterday. The city buses are under no obligation to adhere to schedules, but are allowed to run when they please.

3 Guilty in $100,000 Payroll Theft

SAGINAW, Mich., May 10.—Three of fifteen men held here on charges of obtaining a sum said to approximate $100,000 from the General Motors Corporation through falsifying payrolls for construction work pleaded guilty in Circuit Court today.

P. P. C. Printing Facts

One of the best rules in printing is to avoid rules in printing. Printers have, happily, outgrown the age of rules. Not only are they archaic, but they are ugly and superfluous, and are nearly always evidence of laziness on the part of the layout man. This indictment does not apply to border rules, which often serve a useful purpose, nor to rules under running-headers which sometimes may be used to advantage. But it is safer to avoid them too.

Store Hours 9 to 5

We resume our 9 to 5 store hours today But the Great 20 Per Cent. Sale Goes On 20 per cent. deducted from every price, regular and special—20 per cent. off everything in the entire Wanamaker retail stocks in New York and Philadelphia, except a few trade-mark goods whose prices we cannot honorably change, and the mail order stocks.

We can hardly close the doors at night. The people just won't go. "Please let me stay a few minutes longer and complete my purchases," they say. In response to this insistent demand from the public for a longer day during this sale we extended our closing to 6 o'clock. But now in fairness to our loyal store family who in deference to the public wishes have stood the strain so splendidly and happily we resume our usual 5 o'clock closing. We know the shopping public will reciprocate and co-operate by coming promptly at 9 in the morning in order that we may serve everybody and finish the day's work by 5 o'clock.

"Everything is 20 per cent. less except the crowds"

—one woman was heard to call to another—"come on, get into it, and get what you want before it's gone."

Everybody is good-natured. Everybody realizes that in such a business turn-over as this there must be a certain amount of "give and take."

"Yes, you give and we take," said a customer to whom this remark was made. "We're taking all right."

"I'll take them all"

It was about noon in the sheet and pillow case section. Crowds everywhere, waiting to buy. Finally one housewife, a bit impatient, stepped behind the counter and, folding her arms around a big bundle of pillow cases, called out—"I'll take all of these. I don't know how many there are, but I want all of them." And she took them!

Again—it was after the store closing bugle had sounded. A mother came hurrying into the Girls' Store. Everybody was busy straightening stock. But the woman went through rack after rack, table after table, and laying exactly twenty washable frocks aside, she exclaimed: "I'll take these right now; I'm afraid this sale won't go on next week."

"I'm coming back"

She admitted she was tired, but there was a smile on her face as she stepped up

These Reservations Only

A few conditions are necessary in so great a movement.

1. About $50,000 of the goods, consisting of patented or otherwise restricted merchandise, cannot be sold with the 20 per cent. deduction.
2. We cannot sell to dealers.
3. No C. O. D. Sales.
4. No goods on approval.
5. No returns.
6. Kindly carry packages whenever possible.

to a Floor Manager in the Down-Stairs Store. "I didn't bring half enough money today; are your sure this sale will be here tomorrow? ... I'm coming back."

Tomorrow is uncertain. The sale will continue so long as we announce it, but some day there will come a tomorrow when the sale will end.

Better make the most of today. Today is sure.

Still hadn't heard

Three-thirty in the afternoon in the Corset Salon. People in line waiting to be served. One woman received her change and counted it with an expression of uncertainty.

"20 per cent. off, madam," the saleswoman explained.

"20 per cent. off? ... Why?"

The answer was lost in the babel of tongues, but the customer turned from the counter with a smile of surprise. "No wonder there's a crowd," she murmured.

What 20 per cent. means

"I must have forgotten all I learned in school," she said to her companion. "I didn't realize that 20 per cent. means $3 on a purchase of $25. Say, I'd like to get that much interest on my savings account, wouldn't you?"

(Signed)
